

TEXAS COASTAL

FALL 2006

enthusiast

THE CORPUS CHRISTI BAY AREA'S MAGAZINE

U.S. $4.95

Two all-new Snow Books to come this holiday season

On the heels of the amazing success of Snow—a South Texas Christmas Miracle, Kathryn and son Clark Childers bring forth two new books celebrating the Christmas snow of 2004.

The South Texas Christmas Eve snow of 2004, a once in a century event, was celebrated last year with Kathryn Childers' book, which was a compilation of the best photos submitted by South Texans from Galveston to the Valley. The book was an incredible success, having sold some 50,000 copies in HEB stores throughout Texas. What many folks don't know is that there were literally hundreds of photos that were worthy of publication, but just could not fit into the first edition. This year Kathryn is keeping the miracle alive with a 2nd edition, More Snow, The South Texas Christmas Miracle.

What must certainly be the very first holiday children's book published about South Texas, More Snow for Kids, is a colorful and amazing adaptation of the popular Snow photo books. Clark Childers, an astonishingly talented writer and Brown graduate, has composed a joyous children's tale about the South Texas Christmas snow—a tale brought to life by beloved local artist Bill Wilhelmi, whose illustrations in clay are colorful, great fun, and all South Texas.

More Snow is the all-new collection of Christmas 2004 photos (directly above), and More Snow for Kids (top) is illustrated by artist Bill Wilhelmi, seen working with writer Clark Childers (above/left)
Photo by Sharat Camacho

More Snow and More Snow for Kids Available now at South Texas HEB Stores